My sister had a rescued greyhound for many years. That dog was the sweetest animal I'd ever known. She loved children and would even cuddle up with my sister's cat.

They are harmless animals who simply need to experience love, attention and care. And wearing a muzzle can be hot and uncomfortable!

As someone in Colorado, USA, who has been involved in rescuing former racing greyhounds for 23 years, I ask that The Western Australia Dog Act which requires that greyhounds wear muzzles in public be overturned.

Muzzles demonize these gentle dogs, causing people to perceive them as violent and dangerous. This misinformed attitude prevents more former racers from getting adopted and endangers them for destruction. Most retired racers are fine with other dogs and many live with cats and even rabbits. They are a gentle breed, prone to be reticent and tend to be mild mannered around people. It is true that they were bred to have a high prey drive but this is why adoption groups insist that greyhounds are never off leash, mostly for their sake.

Please consider removing the requirement to muzzle greyhounds, which sends the wrong message!

Thank you.

Date: Thursday, 18 July 2019 2:23:32 AM

Dear Donald Punch MP,

cc: Cat and Dog statutory review

I would like to express my support for the complete removal of the section 33(1) of the Dog Act 1976 in relation to companion pet greyhounds - namely that similar to the recent changes in ACT, Victoria and NSW.

I believe companion greyhounds should be allowed to go muzzle free in public without the requirement to complete a training programme. Greyhounds are such a laid back breed, they do not require a muzzle.

I support the removal of this law for companion pet greyhounds for the following reasons:

1. Greyhounds are kept as pets in countries all over the world muzzle free and there has been no increased incidence of greyhound dog bites to people, other dogs or animals
2. The RSPCA have found no evidence to suggest that greyhounds as a breed pose any greater risk than other dog breeds
3. Western Australia, South Australia and Tasmania are the only Australian states still with this law. All other states (VIC, NSW, QLD, ACT, NT) have removed this law
4. The view supported by veterinary behaviourists is that the behaviour of a particular dog should be based on that individual dogs attributes not its breed
5. As a breed, greyhounds are known for their generally friendly and gentle disposition, even despite their upbringing in the racing industry
6. Muzzling contributes to unwarranted negative public perceptions about greyhounds and their suitability as pets, impacting adoption opportunities
7. There is no evidence that shows that Breed Specific Legislation such as greyhounds wearing muzzles is effective in preventing or reducing dog attacks
8. The current 'prescribed training program' is called the Green Collar assessment. As with any behavioural assessment, it only can provide a snapshot of an animal's behaviour at a certain point in time. It doesn't recognise changes that may occur in a dogs behaviour over time, which could be influenced by variety of factors. Its implied assurance may discourage dog owner from ongoing responsibility for their pets behaviour developments
9. There is evidence that suggests that legislation that increases the responsibility of all dog owners, for example through higher fines, leads to a reduction in dog bites and increase in community safety

Please reconsider the need for muzzling greyhounds as a group in public areas.

We have adopted retired greyhound racers for many years and also we have worked with groups to save retired racers. As a group, they have wonderful dispositions and are easily socialized into home and social situations. That is truly remarkable after spending the first part of their lives training, racing and living in less than ideal conditions. They are used to being handled and they are not encouraged to be aggressive. Being fast is all that is asked of the greyhound.

Adoptions need to be encouraged when these dogs have given their all on the race tracks. Having to wear a muzzle in public is a needless negative sign. They have been successful at becoming loving household pets in many parts of Australia and all over the civilized world.

Please change to law requiring greyhound muzzling in public.

Date: Thursday, 18 July 2019 2:16:37 AM

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to urge the amendment of the Dog Act of 1976 to remove the requirement that all greyhounds wear a muzzle in public.

My understanding is that this breed specific law does not apply to any other breed of dog (whereas individual dogs of any breed can be declared a dangerous dog and be required to wear a muzzle in public, no other entire breed is expressly required to do so).

Greyhounds can become exempt from wearing a muzzle only if they undergo a 'prescribed training programme', which is one that is run and has been developed by the racing industry.

Greyhounds are kept as pets in countries all over the world muzzle free and data show that there has been no increased incidence of greyhound dog bites to people, other dogs or animals. The RSPCA have found no evidence to suggest that greyhounds as a breed pose any greater risk than other dog breeds.

Muzzling contributes to unwarranted negative public perceptions about greyhounds and their suitability as pets, which in turn negatively impacts adoption opportunities for greyhounds.

For all of the foregoing reasons, I respectfully urge that the Dog Act 1976 be amended to remove the requirement for all greyhounds to be muzzled in public without the requirement to complete a training programme.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to urge you to remove the compulsory muzzle laws for greyhounds in Western Australia.

The Dog Act 1976 should be amended to remove the requirement for all greyhounds to be muzzled in public without the requirement to complete a training program.

There is no evidence to suggest that the compulsory muzzling of greyhounds provides any benefit to the community nor makes the community safer.

Western Australia's Dog Act is outdated and lagging behind the majority of other states who have already removed this requirement.

Globally, Northern Ireland is the only other country in the world that has compulsory muzzling laws.

Both the RSPCA and Australian Veterinary Association support the removal of compulsory muzzling laws.

The WA racing industry regulator, RWWA has also indicated they support the removal of this law.

Already over 4000 WA residents have signed petitions to support the removal of this law.

There is no evidence to suggest that by changing this law there would be any increase in incidents involving greyhounds.

Gentlemen:

Okay, I am an American, but I find your Dog Act requirement that every adopted greyhound wear a muzzle in public is one of the most down right stupid things I've ever read about greyhounds!!!

ALL breed-specific laws are misguided and based on ignorance and traditional prejudices against certain breeds, never on scientific facts! In the U.S. the prejudice is mostly against "pit bulls" (Denver is notorious since the release of "A Dog's Way Home") which is actually even more insane since at least a minimum of five (5) separate unrelated breeds are all called "pit bulls", not to mention all the mutts who have broad faces and are labeled "pit bulls" regardless they have zero of those genes!!!! ALL dogs have to be judged as individuals, whether they were beaten and abused, not as "breeds"!

As for greyhounds, they are a very gentle breed by nature!!! Greyhounds are some of the sweetest dogs on earth and great couch potatoes for apartment dwellers! The ONLY caveat about adopted greyhounds is that individual dogs who were "blooded" (trained by chasing and possibly killing LIVE rabbits, verses those hounds trained to chase inanimate lures) should not go to homes with cats or pet rabbits and maybe very small dogs!! That training does not make them dangerous to humans!

Your RSPCA, like the ASPCA here, agree that greyhounds make wonderful pets!!! Australian leading veterinarians agree that it is time for your state law to stop discriminating against greyhounds. Given the horribly high kill rate of ex-racing dogs (high rate just like in the U.S.) that you call "wastage" Down Under, everything should be done to promote adoption of all retired greyhounds!!! Your Dog Act needs to be changed.

Very truly,

Dear Sir or Madam,

There can be no rational basis for requiring owners of retired or pet greyhounds to wear muzzles at all times. Every greyhound of the many I have ever interacted with in public has been friendly, docile, and sweet in responding to my overtures. As my mother advised me when I was about three, I always ask the owner of every dog I meet if they are friendly. This has worked for me without incident since I was a young child many decades ago.

Please revise your legal protocol to remove this muzzling requirement aimed at a single breed, and substitute a case by case requirement for any dog of any breed who has been reported to the police or other authority and has been evaluated as overly aggressive or as posing an a risk of harm. Anything else is arbitrary, capricious, and unlawful.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

I urge you to amend the Dog Act to remove misguided, breed-specific language requiring greyhound muzzling.

Thank you,

It seems unconscionable to me that you muzzle grey hounds. This is an action that should be met with severe legal ramifications.

This is unjust treatment of these gentle giants.

Please put an end to this requirement.

That the Dog Act 1976 be amended to remove the requirement for all greyhounds to be muzzled in public without the requirement to complete a training program.

This is unfair to the sweet animals and to the owners of these fabulous greyhounds.

Thank you.
